AGAINST THE STRIKE

Coshocton Miners Think They Can Help Anthracite Men

BY CONTINUING THEIR WORK
in Order That They May Give Financial Aid—District President Green
Assesses the Situation.

"I do not think the miners of Coshocton and of this sub-district want a strike at present. From what I can learn they believe they can help the striking miners of Pennsylvania much more if they continue to work and are thus able to extend financial aid."

The speaker was William Green, president of this sub-district of the United Mine Workers of America.

Since the great convention was called for Indianapolis July 17 miners and operators of Ohio have been wondering what would be done. The convention is to settle the momentous question of whether the bituminous miners will strike in sympathy with the men who are out in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania. Many miners favor a strike believing it the best means in the hands of the mighty organization. Others think the men not directly influenced should continue at work and give a part of what they earn each day to support the thousands of women and children dependent upon the strikers.

"We have made a contract with the operators and it is binding on both sides," continued Mr. Green. "By the terms of the contract we should work, and I believe the delegates from the Coshocton locals will vote against a strike. We can help to keep the Pennsylvania miners until they win out by a strike assessment and if we are not working we cannot pay it."

"I don't think the Coshocton delegates have been chosen as yet, but from contact with the miners I think I can say they will tend to Indianapolis careful, conservative men, who will be opposed to a strike in this district at this time."

Happy Constable Jeffries.

Constable Jeffries is 84 years old today, and his appearance and actions indicate that in spite of the heat he never felt better. He has filled the office of constable for half a century, and has made enough arrests during that time to fill a large volume. For 20 years he has been court bailiff, and his face has become well known to a great many people in the county while he counts his personal friends by the hundred. The constable has no flag, but if he had everybody would agree that it should continue to wave.

A Good Show.

The Harris Nickle Plate circus gave one of its entertaining exhibitions in this city Friday on the grounds north of East High street. The exhibition of animals was interesting and the program that was rendered was one attraction following another. The riding, acrobatic feats etc., were some of the best ever shown in the city. The show has certainly earned its reputation and a return date at any time will assure them a good attendance.—The Democrat, Hamilton, O., May 13.

Lizards' Notable Victories.

Coshocton has a ball team known as the Lizards, and the way those boys play ball excites the admiration of every fan who likes a good game. They went to Shanesville the Fourth, and cleared the diamond in two pretty victories. In the afternoon they played an errorless game while Shanesville only had one. The score:

Lizards	3	2	0	0	0	1	0	3	9	11	4
Shanesville	1	0	0	2	0	0	3	0	6	10	3

Carnes and Brennan and Tish and Brennan were the Lizard batteries. The boys and all of their friends are proud of their playing.

Robbed a Buggy-Steal.

Some unprincipled thief entered the buggy shed at the residence of Mrs. Rhoney Rose, in Roscoe, and stole a grip, halter and shawl. The parties are known, and if the property is not returned it is highly probable the matter will find its way into court.

WEST LAFAYETTE.

WEST LAFAYETTE, July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Leightner, of Delaware, arrived Tuesday and will spend several weeks here.

Oscar Griffin has moved with his family from Deersville into the property recently purchased from H. A. Sicker on Russell avenue.

George Gibbons, of Dennison, is visiting friends here.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Samuel Waggoner near Isleta.

Mayor and Mrs. T. J. Platt are visiting in Virginia.

Mrs. Laura Norman returned to Coshocton Tuesday.

Mrs. H. J. Lewis was in Coshocton. Harvey Culbertson has returned to his home in Iowa after a two weeks' visit among relatives.

There will be a coffee social at Mrs. A. Hartman's, 129 Sycamore street, for Sacred Heart church, July 10. Everybody invited.

Raspberries every day this week by the quart or bushel. Granulated sugar all this week 20 pounds for $1. J. W. ALMACE, Phone 128. Cor. Cherry and Walnut.

They were Mrs. Selby, Mrs. Kirk, Mrs. Hogle, Mrs. Carnahan, Miss Dotts, Mrs. Shrigley, Mrs. Sayer, Mrs. Dickerman, and Mrs. Rose. Mrs. Standen proved herself an accomplished host.

Peculiar Accident.

Carl Sherrard, of South Seventh, was wrestling with a companion Sunday morning when he fell and dislocated his left arm at the elbow, and also sustained a fracture of the arm. Doctor Marshall and Doctor McClain reduced the fracture and repaired as far as possible the damage to the elbow.

Doctor Marshall assisted by Doctor McClain, removed the eye of Clell Jackson Sunday morning. It was made necessary by inflammation.

Died.

The body of Leon Leavitt, of Clark, arrived here Friday from Toledo. The gentle Mr. and his wife were visiting the daughter when he became suddenly ill. He had long been a sufferer from cancer but death came with little warning. Funeral services were held in Keene where interment was made.

Mr. Leavitt was prominent in the neighborhood where he resided and his sudden death was a shock to the many relatives and friends who had all ways held him in highest esteem.

Very Near Escape.

Pan Handle passenger train in 10 was delayed 30 minutes by a drawhead being put off here, and a passenger left the train. He was returning with two bottles of beer after the train started, and had a narrow escape from death while attempting to get on board. The man, however, had sense enough to retain his hold until the train was stopped. Had the train gone much farther he would have been compelled to let go with what would doubtless have been disastrous results.

Joseph Cohen, the chiropractor, will only be at the Park Hotel until July 12. This is your opportunity to have your feet treated by clean, antiseptic and reliable methods.

MAY GO INTO COURT

If the Wheeling Does Not Lower South Seventh Crossing.

A CONFERENCE OF ATTORNEYS
Has Resulted in Nothing Although a Number of Propositions Have Been Made.

The people living on South Seventh want the Wheeling track lowered, many persons compelled to drive that way are equally anxious to have the change made, and council has reached that point where it is prepared to insist on prompt action.

The track is 18 inches above the paving and forms a barrier that cannot be passed by vehicles. It is a great inconvenience, and residents think it has remained at that height long enough. Arrangements have been made a number of times for Engineer Hanlon and the company's officials to agree on a grade, but nothing has been done. Mr. Needham, principal claim agent of the railroad, discussed the matter with council two weeks ago, but the grade is still there. Council is scheduled to meet Tuesday evening, and the matter will probably come up again.

Solicitor McDowell conferred with Judge Adams, of Zanesville, but they could reach no conclusion. The fact that the station and scales are on Walnut street entered into the matter. The solicitor was willing that the city should pay for moving station and scales to Cambridge if the company would lower the track on South Seventh, but the proposition has not been accepted. Mr. Needham agreed in council for the removal of the buildings, but wanted the track to remain as it is.

Solicitor McDowell is preparing to go into court and ask an order compelling the lowering of the track. Six large photographs have been taken of the crossing, and if the matter goes into court will be used as an exhibit.

Broken Bottles.

The last shipment of glass from the glass works came to grief near Navarre. It consisted of two cars filled with bottles and consigned to a firm in Toledo. The cars were in a wreck at Navarre and were telegraphed to the result was a smashing of glass such as was never before heard in that community. The loss is heavy.

Number of Excursionists.

Agent Klipp has received the returns and counted the tickets sold for the public library excursion to Rock Spring. Of the 2533 excursionists 2357 were adults and 176 children.

Young People's Meeting.

The young people's union will meet Tuesday evening in Grace M. E. church. Three papers will be read. The subjects are "Advancement of Temperance," "Practical Good Citizenship," and "The Real Law."

Miss Laurie's Position.

In the report of the election of teachers THE AGE neglected to say that Miss Tillie Laurie had been chosen principal of the Cherry building. Doctor Platt has found in his experience that many cities have ladies as principals and their work is highly satisfactory.

Lost a Watch.

Mrs. T. S. Ward was so unfortunate as to lose her watch the evening of the Fourth, and hopes the finder will return it. Mrs. Ward values the watch highly as it is a gift from her father. It is small. She will pay a suitable reward.

Pensions Granted.

Squire Wimmer was the attorney in the following pensions, recently granted:

Eli Fox, E. Company, One Hundred and Forty-second Ohio, increased from $8 to $12 per month.

Joseph Harbaugh, I. Company, Nineteenth Ohio, dropped under act of June 27, 1890, and placed under act of Oct. 23, 1901, at $12 per month.

Lewis Guillems, H. Company, Ninety-seventh Ohio, dropped under act of June 27, 1890, and placed under the general law at $12 per month, pension to date from Nov. 27, 1901.

Shade Trees Private Property.

The supreme court has decided that shade trees in front of a man's residence, although located on public property, belong to him. The case in which this decision was rendered was one in which a property owner sued a telephone company for cutting off the limbs of his trees. The decision is one of vital interest to all property owners, who in this instance should bless the supreme court.

BIG DIVORCE BUSINESS

Fifty-Four Applications Passed on in Probate Court.

Judge Roche has made up his report for the year ending June 30 and finds the divorce proceedings in probate court occupy a prominent place. Fifty four cases were disposed of. Of that number 17 applications were filed by the husband and 37 by the wife. Alimony was allowed the wife in six instances and 11 husbands were granted divorce. One case brought by the husband and six by wives were dismissed, while one brought by the wife was refused. The custody of children was given the father in four instances and the mother in eight. The principal grounds given were absence and neglect.

During the year 230 marriage licenses were issued.

WILHELMINA'S HOME LIFE.

Unhappy Relations With Her Husband Denied by Hollander.

The Dutch are greatly tried with the reports which have been circulating throughout the world for the last two years concerning the home life of their queen, says the New York Tribune. A prominent grain importer of Holland who is at present traveling in this country said to a group of American friends the other evening:

"It is libelous nonsense to say that Wilhelmina's marriage has been an unhappy one. If that were true, we Hollanders would be the first to make the accusation, for surely we would not defend the Prussian stranger at the expense of our queen. The marriage itself has never ceased to be a love match."

"I would like to give a little incident of their domestic life which came to me directly from a chamberlain in honor to the royal house. One day the king was searching through the chambers of the palace for Queen Wilhelmina. He came to the room where the premier was patiently waiting for an audience. The room was dark, and the king mistook him for the object of his search and said, 'Finde ich dich hier, mein liebes Thier?'

"It is a shame to translate that lyrical and human little phrase 'Mein liebes Thier.' Solomon once spoke of his heart's love as a gazelle, and perhaps that is as near as Anglo-Saxon will come. The incident is typical of the relations of our king and queen to each other."

Well Fitted.

It is announced in a New York paper that ex-Secretary Olney has been charged with the preparation of the standard plank of the Democratic platform regarding trusts. He is the man of all others to do it, having been all his life a corporation lawyer of the first quality. It may be added that as Mr. Cleveland's attorney general he declared that the Sherman antitrust law was so imperfect that it was useless to bring actions under it. Attorney General Knox has proved it quite effective.—Indianapolis Journal.

OUR LOCAL MUD-SLINGERS.

A Columbus newspaper reports that Detective Tom Foster is in trouble again, this time for "wrongfully opening letters" in the United States mails. This man Foster is the fellow who was brought to Coshocton last winter by some local statesmen to help them in what they thought was a postoffice contest. It was lucky for these statesmen that the fool-feller was not around about that time. Now that it is over they should all write a book telling what they don't know about politics. Then they should write another book telling what they do know about mud-slinging. As politicians they have proven themselves to be shining failures, as mud-slingers, mighty warriors. In the realm of clean politics they are all at sea, while down in the mire they are right in their element.

That little incident which they supposed was a postoffice contest, enabled them to exhibit their real character, the methods they employed indicating the kind of schemes and purposes that emanate from such hearts and brains. For example, when they were informed on high authority that they were beaten in the fair field of politics, their next resort was to get down in the mire and throw mud. This is an average sample of their statesmanship. Not only did they throw mud, but they made their own mud while wallowing in their own mire. The whole crew got down in the same mire together and as they threw mud in concert they laughed and chuckled in exceeding great glee and complimented each other on their "good work" in that line. They thought it was the best effort of their lives. And it was! It was a little better than their usual efforts. While they revelled in their high carnival of mud-slinging, their chunks of mud flying thick and fast, they thought that "cussed candidate" at whom they aimed would be so badly bespattered with mud that he could not possibly be reappointed. But lo, the poor Indiana. When all was over and the smoke of the mud battle had cleared away it was found they had failed and their mud had not stuck to anybody but themselves. One weak little mud-slinger named Glenn has not yet been able to get all of it out of his whiskers. Mud-slinger Charley Glover's "purty" whiskers, being of a color unlike mud, became more highly decorated than Glenn's. A good citizen has suggested that the whole crew should be taken to the aqueduct and given a bath. But mud-slinger DeHart and a few others have not sufficiently recovered from the grand finale to undergo the ordeal, so we beg that the community's punishment be indefinitely postponed or suspended under their promise to be good or to be as good as they can. Although E. W. James took a very active part in the mud-slinging, he should be excused because of his hateful disposition, and because of the further fact that he was not retained as counsel in certain litigation which he asked to be taken into, and a man with such an extraordinary personal grievance as that has an unlimited right to throw mud or commit any kind of violence on incendiaryism that will injure the reputation or business of the person who declined to take him into the case. And the verdant McConnell boy, who contributed so much money to the fund to hire Detective Foster, he should be excused because he didn't know any better and never will. People should not be blamed for acts resulting from shallowness of brain, even though they may have a pretty face and a swaggering walk. And while Dr. James McClain was active in the mud-slinging, he should be excused because he claims to have supposed the postmaster had been instrumental in stopping a certain pension which he and one W. S. Merrill had obtained by questionable means. We beg the community to forgive all the mud-slingers who are now suffering enough punishment in the way of mortification. And while the community feels disposed to kick them off the earth with their hired scavenger as a public nuisance and menace to peace and common decency, we beg that they be allowed to stay in order that other people may be more appreciated by comparison. "It takes all kinds of people to make a world," and the world wouldn't be complete without them. They have demonstrated that they are not capable of doing much harm, anyhow. So please let them stay.

Since the mud-slingers have chosen to go down into the mire, the community regards that an appropriate nest for such statements. They can now look at the fruits of their toil. Wonder how they like it? Their faces don't indicate that they are as happy as they were. Since "now is the winter of their discontent," we suggest that they turn their sorrowful faces to their own Moses, George Board of review Hay, who will no doubt lead them from the muddy wilderness to some other promised land where milk and honey and public offices flow, and where they can turn the milk into lime and the honey into mud, so they can build for themselves a lovely mire where they can lie down together and lie together and dwell together in peace and harmony and mud-slingers love for another forty years.

The amusing feature of that campaign of mud-slinging was the confession of infamy which each one betrayed in trying to throw the responsibility for it upon the shoulders of "the other fellows." When people of the community would take them to task for it, each of the mud-slingers would say, "Oh I am not having anything to do with that part of the fight; the other fellows [their associates] are doing that." Each tried to deny it and lay it upon the others. No wonder! A visitor at Washington, however, saw the black-and-white evidence that all are equally guilty, as much so as the hired scavenger whose expenses they paid to carry their mud to Washington and stay there eight weeks to handle their subsequent batches of it, which they were afraid to send through the United States mails lest it might land all of them in the penitentiary. It was a sorry figure that was cut by their hired scavenger, but while the community cursed him and the press of the state rebuked him, he is but little worse than the rest of the mud-slingers who have tried to throw most of the blame upon his shoulders because they are narrow. It is fun to watch them dodge and try to run to cover at the first of being caught in that nefarious work which they call "politics." To one citizen who upbraided them, their defense was the plea that "all's fair in war and politics." And that same argument is what they plead to one person whom they tried to bribe into bearing false witness to sustain their charges. This admitted bribery was no worse than their own perjury, and both together constitute a chapter that is well adapted for a character study of such men, who have inscribed upon their banner:

A merry band of mud-slingers are we
Most happy when in our mire
All's fair in war and politics, we see
So a scavenger we hire.

CORONATION DETAILS.

Document Describes in Quaint Terms Parts of Ceremony.

An interesting official document has been issued describing the actual coronation ceremony in Westminster abbey in London, entitled, "The Form and Order of Service and Ceremonies at the Coronation of Their Majesties, Edward VII. and Queen Alexandra in the Abbey Church of St. Peter, Westminster, June 26." The document, which is very long, is divided into numerous sections thus, says the Chicago Inter Ocean:

Section 1.—Preparation.
Section 2.—Entrance into the church.
Section 3.—Recognition.
Sections 4, 5, 6.—The Mass, communion and sermon.
Section 7.—The oath.
Section 8.—The anointing.
Section 9.—Presenting the spurs and sword and girding with the sword.
Section 10.—Investing with the armilla and imperial mantle and delivery of the orb.
Section 11.—Investiture per anulum et baculum.
Section 12.—Crowning.
Section 13.—Presenting the Holy Bible.
Section 14.—The benediction and "Te Deum."
Section 15.—The enthronization.

The document throughout is couched in quaint Biblical language. It commences with a description of how on the morning of coronation day care is to be taken that the ampulla is filled with oil and with a spoon laid ready upon the altar. The archbishops and bishops, being already vested with their copes, will form a procession outside the west door of the abbey and await notice of the approach of their majesties before moving into the church. Their majesties will be received with the anthem, "Pence Be Within Thy Walls." Their majesties will pass toward the throne and make their humble adoration, kneeling at the foot of stools, and then will sit in chairs before the throne.

The document describes the curious ceremony of recognition and the other ceremonies. Those above mentioned occur before the coronation proper.

A CHICAGO BLAZE

Causes a Property Loss Amounting to Over $425,000.

Chicago, July 7.—Fire destroyed the buildings at 305-313 Wabash avenue, causing losses aggregating over $425,000. For a time the fire threatened widespread destruction, as it was only through the utmost efforts of the firemen that the flames were prevented from spreading to the department store of Siegel, Cooper & Company, fronting on State street and separated from the burning buildings by only a narrow alley. Much excitement was caused among the guests at the Auditorium hotel, directly across Wabash avenue from the burning buildings and at the Auditorium Annex, as guests were aroused from their slumbers at 7 a. m., and the fire had gained such headway that it threatened other buildings in all directions. On the Wabash avenue side the flames belched out into the avenue so fiercely that it was considered unsafe for trains on the elevated loop to pass, and for over two hours all traffic on the loop was suspended.

New Wrinkle in Races.

New York, July 7.—The Grand Circuit program for the meeting to be given by the New York Trotting association at the Brighton Beach track, Aug. 11 to 16 inclusive, was announced by Secretary C. A. McCully. It includes 21 events, the purses for which amount to $66,500. Two of these, the Bonner memorial 2:15 trot and the special match between Joe Abbott and Lord Derby, are worth $10,000 each. Another feature is the Horse Review purse of $5,000 for three-year-olds. Twenty-five of the best youngsters are named in this, and it will be the first of the races for that age. There are eight classes on a new plan—the race limited to three heats, each winner of a heat retiring, and the horse making the fastest time getting first money and so on.

Turnerbund Convention.

Davenport, Ia., July 7.—The twentieth national convention of the North American Turnerbund opened in this city, with Ed Lischer of Davenport temporary chairman and Noah Weber, Newark, N. J., temporary secretary. The report of the credentials committee showed 216 delegates present, all of the 28 district turner organizations being represented. The delegates were welcomed by Mayor Becker on behalf of the city, and by Ed Lischer on behalf of the Davenport turners. These were responded to by the president of the national society, Herman Lieber of Indianapolis. The only other features of the opening session were the reading of reports by President Lieber and Secretary Theodore Stempel of Indianapolis.

Sailboat Capsized.

Detroit, July 7.—Three young boys, Tony Henkel and Oscar Rosenberg of Detroit and a boy whose name is not known, were drowned in the middle channel at the St. Clair Flats by the capsizing of a sailboat. The accident occurred about 200 feet from Savage's hotel, where young Henkel and Rosenberg were stopping. A number of people saw the accident, but it was over and the boys had sunk so quickly that no aid could be given them.

Cars Demolished by Mob.

Parkman, R. I., July 7.—Two cars of the United Traction company were smashed by a mob of 500 men in Pawtucket and the crews driven off. The mob cut the curtains to pieces with knives, broke the ventilator windows and battered the woodwork of the cars. A wrecker was sent for the cars and this was attacked, but the cars were gotten away. Finally the running of cars was suspended.

Sad Fate of Betting Party.

New York, July 7.—The wife of Captain Tiemann N. Horn of the Ninety-fifth company, Second artillery; his daughter Frances, aged 7, and Miss Alice McManis of Nyack, N. Y., were drowned in Sandy Hook bay. Captain Horn is stationed at Fort Hancock, on Sandy Hook.

King Edward Improving.

London, July 7.—King Edward's progress continues to be good. It is said that if his improvement proceeds at the present rate he will probably by the end of the month be well enough to be transferred to the royal yacht in Southampton waters.

She Was Despondent.

Weston, Mass., July 7.—Dr. Mary Damon of Minneapolis, a member of a prominent Concord family, committed suicide at the home of a relative by cutting her throat. The act is attributed to despondency accompanying ill health.

SLIPPED OUT OF TOWN.

President Mitchell Makes a Quiet Trip to New York.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 7.—President Mitchell of the miners' union left here for New York. He slipped out of town so unexpectedly and so quietly that only two or three persons around strike headquarters knew of his departure. As he did not announce he was going to New York there is an element of mystery about his journey, but it is learned on trust worthy authority that he went to the metropolis for the purpose of meeting leaders of other labor organizations. The purpose of the meeting is not definitely known here, but it is understood to have a direct bearing on the question of labor organizations affiliated with the American Federation of Labor assisting the miners' union financially. It is known that some of these organizations, through their national officers, have expressed their willingness to help the mine workers in this way. Mr. Mitchell while in New York may meet the agents of railroad unions or other organizations that can assist his people by other than financial means.

SULTAN IS WROTH.

Threatens to Exterminate the Americans in Mindanao.

WRITES A VERY INSULTING LETTER.

Is at Present Engaged in Strengthening His Defenses—Said to be in the hands of the American expedition to Lake Tanao, in Mindanao, in which he threatens to begin offensive operations in August. The sultan is at present strengthening his position.

Agulnaldo Goes Free.

Manila, July 7.—As a result of the proclamation of amnesty July 4, the guard of American soldiers has withdrawn from the house where Agulnaldo lives in Manila, and Lieutenant Johnson, Agulnaldo's custodian, brought the Filipino to see General Chaffee. It was the first meeting between the American general and the leader of the Filipino revolution.

Lieutenant William E. McKinlay of the Ninth cavalry acted as interpreter. Agulnaldo was told that he was free to go anywhere he pleased, and General Chaffee asked him if he had any complaint to make of American discourtesy or harshness. Agulnaldo replied that he had no such complaint to make. He told General Chaffee that he was going to visit friends at his home in Cavite Viejo, in Cavite province, and inquired what protection the American authorities would afford him. He seemed to be afraid to venture out. General Chaffee replied that Agulnaldo would get the same protection as any other citizen.

Future of the Philippines.

Baltimore, July 7.—Lieutenant D. C. Lyles, United States army, who served on the staff of General Lawton, Funston and Smith in various capacities in the Philippines, is visiting friends in this city. Engineer, artilleryman, scout, gunboat commander and mapmaker by turns, he had considerable opportunity of seeing the archipelago, which he states possesses untold resources. "The future of the Philippines is bright," Lieutenant Lyles said. "Order has been restored from chaotic conditions which obtained in the days of the Spanish. The climate is splendid, the people for the most part are amiable and appreciative of what the United States has done for them, and it is my opinion that the archipelago comprises the richest territory in the world."

Trial of Captain Ryan.

Manila, July 7.—The court martial which is trying Captain James A. Ryan of the Fifteenth cavalry on the charge of being unnecessarily severe with the natives of the province where he was stationed has admitted, for purposes of cross-examination, the entire report of Judge Rhode, which forms the basis of the charges against the captain. The order convening the court disregarded all the allegations except the one of cruelty to natives. Judge Rhode testified that he had no personal knowledge of the facts in the principal allegations, and declined to give the names of his informants. He admitted and then denied the right of the defense to require an answer to the question as to where he obtained his information.

Gardener Cross-Examined.

Manila, July 7.—The cross-examination of Major Cornelius Gardener, governor of Tayabas province, Luzon, by the board which has been investigating the charges of cruelty, etc., brought by the major against American officers and soldiers, has been completed. The board again formally demanded the production by Major Gardener of testimony as to the alleged hostility of the military authorities in the Philippines to the civil government. Major Gardener has promised to answer this demand. He testified that he had not intended to reflect upon the fairness of the court, and that the recorder had not, to his knowledge, interfered with his witnesses.

Must Account For Funds.

Manila, July 7.—A number of the former followers of the insurgent general Lukban, who operated and was finally captured on the island of Samar, are being examined here on the charge of misappropriation of revolutionary funds. General Canales has permitted Lukban to go through the captured insurgent archives in Manila for the purpose of obtaining documents to show the innocence of his followers.

Dependent Soldiers.

Manila, July 7.—Captain John H. Shellenberger of the Tenth infantry committed suicide by shooting at Ili-gan, in the island of Mindanao, July 4. He acted from despondency. Second Lieutenant Thomas Ryan of the Philippine scouts also committed suicide by shooting in the interior of the island of Mindanao, June 18.

Decided to Strike.

Chicago, July 7.—The freight handlers, numbering nearly 9,000 men, employed in the different railway warehouses and depots in Chicago, at a special meeting decided to go on strike within 48 hours to enforce their demand for higher wages.

Victim of Sunstroke.

Cattletown, Ky., July 7.—Alex Yost, chief of police here, died from sunstroke.

FLOODS IN THE EAST

And Waterspouts and Tornadoes in the West.

MOON WATERS CAUSE MUCH DAMAGE.

A Territorial Downpour Voids Western New York, Causing Rivers and Creeks to Overflow Their Banks and Sweep Away Buildings and Livestock.—Communication Interrupted.

Buffalo, July 7.—A terrific rain and windstorm swept over western New York at an early hour. Rivers and creeks rose rapidly, overflowing their banks and sweeping away houses and barns and live stock. The loss will reach into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Telegraph and telephone wires are down and communication with small towns in Wyoming, Niagara and Cattaraugus counties is difficult. Minnie Loper, who kept a bakery on the bank of the creek at Mason, was drowned. Miss Loper's bakery was swept out into the stream, but it had not gone far before it fell apart. Miss Loper's body was recovered.

Caused Landslides.

Canandaigua, N. Y., July 7.—A cloudburst struck this section of the country along the west shore of Canandaigua lake. At Granger's Point a barn was carried half way into the lake. The vineyards are covered under from two to eight feet of water. On the west side of the beach, from Black Point to Woodville, the landslides have formed many points and peninsulas large enough to build cottages upon. At Vine Valley the bridge connecting the pier with the mainland was borne down into the lake.

Tornado in Wisconsin.

Milwaukee, July 7.—After a sweltering hot day Milwaukee was visited by a fierce wind and rainstorm. The wires of the Wisconsin Central railroad leading from Milwaukee north are demolished, and the storm is reported as severe in the northern part of the state. A special from Phillips says a tornado passed just north of the city, wrecking a portion of the mammoth tannery of the United States Leather company. One person was seriously injured during the storm.

Dam Gave Way.

Attica, N. Y., July 7.—A fierce storm sent Tonawanda creek over its banks and the reservoir of the Attica Water company, two miles south of here, gave way under the pressure. The east end of the dam at the Attica mill was washed away. Dead cattle, wagons and wreckage of all kinds were washed down stream. Seven iron bridges in this town were carried away. Hundreds of acres of hay and crops are ruined. The railway road beds are badly washed out.

Hornellsville Flooded.

Hornellsville, N. Y., July 7.—A tremendous downpour of rain caused one of the worst floods of the year in this vicinity. All of the lower part of the city was soon flooded. Railroad traffic in both directions was completely tied up all day and not a train arrived in the city after 2 a. m. Three houses were undermined and carried away.

TRACY HEARD FROM.

The Oregon Convict Again Resumes His March.

LAD IN A STOCK OF PROVISIONS.

Took Rancher Johnson's Sunday Suit, Impressed His Mired Man For Duty at the Oars, and Started on a Trip Down the Sound—Officers in a Trip Pursue Him.

Seattle, Wash., July 7.—According to information received at the sheriff's office here, Harry Tracy, the Oregon convict, slept in a graveyard near this city after his battle last Thursday night with Seattle officers. On Friday morning he proceeded to the ranch of a man named Fisher, secured food, and slept and rested in the woods all that day and night. Early Saturday morning he appeared at Meadow Point in the water front, three miles north of Seattle, his original point of landing. There he compelled a Japanese fisherman to row him to Madison Point, 12 miles across and down the sound from Seattle. He dismissed the boy, declaring that the latter would be killed by Tracy's pal if he told of the trip. They landed near the home of Rancher Johnson, and Tracy watched the house for an hour to make sure of the number of men there. Finding but two, he entered and announced that he intended to kill everyone on the ranch and take charge of the place for a few days. He added: "But after seeing your pretty little girl, I will kill no one if you will mind me. I will be here all day."

The family prepared breakfast for Tracy and put one plate on a table against the wall. "This is not right," declared the convict; "put the table in the middle of the room and all sit down with me," which was done.

Tracy then read Friday evening's papers, and after learning now Mrs. Van Horn had betrayed his presence in her house to the butcher boy, said he had been careless in not keeping everyone in that house constantly under his eye. "My carelessness in this respect made it necessary to kill two officers," he said.

He forced the Johnsons to give him a bundle of clothing and hats and six days' supplies of food; cooked for him, put on Johnson's suit of Sunday black and had the food, clothing and blankets made into bundles. At 8 o'clock he bound and tightly gagged the Johnson family, made their hired man, Anderson, carry the bundles to Johnson's rowboat, put Anderson in the boat at the oars and started down the sound.

Mrs. Johnson released herself and the others two hours later and notified Deputy Sheriff McKay, who lives at Madison Point. McKay secured a boat and sent word to Seattle. Sheriff Cuddehe was summoned from Bothell, and with several men started down the sound in the Sea Lion, an electric tugboat, looking for the desperado and the farmhand. However, as Tracy had 15 hours' start, it is believed he will make good his escape. The supposition is that he will row all night, probably kill Anderson, sink the boat, and disappear into the wild forests of northern Washington, where he may live many days on his supply of food.

JABS MORGAN,

And Incidentally Takes a Whack at Emperor William.

Vienna, July 7.—The Neue Freie Presse has published a satirical editorial on the fact that J. Pierpont Morgan took luncheon with Emperor William on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Kiel, July 3. The paper remarks: "Without his checkbook Mr. Morgan would never have been the emperor's guest." The article harps throughout upon the probabilities of misfortune overtaking "The Napoleon of Finance," and says that, glided by the imagination, his trusts appear to be excellent, but that the first moment public confidence is disturbed the system will undergo a severe trial.

The Neue Freie Presse concludes by saying: "Could a thought reader have penetrated the secret recesses of the minds of Emperor William and his guest what startling contrasts might he not have discovered. In Emperor William's mind, perhaps, a yearning for fame and splendor; in that of Mr. Morgan, the hope of new trusts and rising prices. How fortunate it is that social politeness veils such opposites."

Died in a Bathroom.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 7.—While their son and daughter and several young friends were singing and dancing in the parlor, Charles J. McCormick, a Great Northern conductor, and his wife, were dying in a bathroom upon the same floor. Their bodies were found some hours later by their young son, who went to call them. No satisfactory explanation of the tragedy could be given, though the evidence points to poisoning. An inquest will be held.

Young Woman Killed.

Guthrie, O. T., July 7.—Miss Jennie Harrison was gored to death by a bull at Odemah, in Greer county, the animal knocking her down and running its horns back and forth through her body.

Church Burned.

Milwaukee, July 7.—At Janesville, Wis., during a fierce storm, lightning struck the spire of St. Patrick's Catholic church and the edifice was destroyed.

DEATH OF A JURY.

Chief Justice Williams of Supreme Court Passes Away.

Columbus, O., July 7.—Mammoth J. Williams, chief justice of the supreme court of the state, died shortly after midnight at his residence, 910 East Broad street. While Judge Williams has been ill for some weeks and it was known that his illness was of a very serious character, it was not thought that death would come so soon.

Convention of Catholic Societies.

Cincinnati, July 7.—Much interest is being manifested throughout the country regarding the national convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies in Chicago, Aug. 5, 6 and 7.

Drowned in the Maumee.

Toledo, July 7.—Two young men, Walter Arnold and an unknown companion, were drowned while swimming in the Maumee river. The bodies have not been recovered.

Minister's Wife Succumbs.

Oberlin, O., July 7.—Mrs. D. L. Leonard, the wife of a prominent Congregational minister of this city, died from the effects of burns received while starting a bonfire.

Killed by a Trolley Car.

Toledo, July 7.—Bernard McMahon, 20, while standing on the footboard of a streetcar, was struck by a passing car and instantly killed.

Riot at a Christening.

Councilsville, Pa., July 7.—A race riot between Slavs and Polish miners and coke workers occurred at a christening at the home of a Slav boarding boss near Vanderbilt, three miles from here. Mike Zovetich, a Slav, was killed instantly by three revolver wounds, and Victor Heanel, a Slav, who was shot through the body, will not live. Thirty Slavs, men and women, were all more or less injured in the hand-to-hand fight that took place. The participants were covered with blood after the fracas, but their injuries, while serious, will not prove fatal. Thirty arrests were made.

Cycle Race.

Newark, N. J., July 7.—At the Vailsburg cycle races M. L. Harley, the amateur champion, won the five-mile race, easily breaking the world's record. He rode the distance in 10:56, beating his own record of 11:09 1-5, made at the same track on June 9. Forty-four men started in this race, and the back bunch caught up at four miles. At the bell there was a wild scramble for positions. On the back stretch Glasson went down and Billington and Achorn went over him. The two latter received broken collar bones and were carried from the track.

Railroad Damaged.

Hope, Ida., July 7.—A cloudburst at Ellispot, east of Hope, swept away 12 or 15 houses and washed out 12 miles of track on the Northern Pacific. There was no loss of life. For a considerable distance around Ellispot the country is flooded. The creek is wide and swift, and all the trestles are gone from Clark's Fork to Hope. Passengers eastbound are transferred from Sand Point by boat to Hope, and west from Hope to Sand Point. There are several slides along the track each way.

Can't Stop It.

London, July 7.—The Times publishes a special article asking whether nothing can be done to stop the continuous wholesale exportation of rare and early-printed books and illuminated manuscripts to the United States. The article describes another fine collection of books and manuscripts which has just been purchased by an American gentleman who does not wish his name to be disclosed.

NEW BRITISH EMBASSADOR.

President Roosevelt and the Hon. Michael Herbert Are Old Chums.

The Hon. Michael Herbert, the new ambassador to the United States from England, is an old friend and chum of President Roosevelt, says the Washington correspondent of the New York World. When Herbert was secretary of the British embassy, Roosevelt was a member of the civil service commission. Both are athletic in their tastes, and at that time they were baseball fanatics of the pronounced type. They used to go to the baseball game every afternoon and root for the unfortunate Washingtons.

They loped, fenced and walked together, consequently when the British government asked the president if Mr. Herbert would be acceptable to this government as ambassador, the president gave a whoop of joy and said he would.

What are Humors?

They are vitiated or morbid fluids coursing the veins and affecting the tissues. They are commonly due to defective digestion but are sometimes inherited.

How do they manifest themselves? In many forms of cutaneous eruption, salt rheum or eczema, pimples and boils, and in weakness, languor, general debility.

How are they expelled? By

Hood's Sarsaparilla

which also builds up the system that has suffered from them.

CUBA AND ITS FUTURE

Palma to Model His Country on the United States.

SANITATION TO BE CONTINUED.

New President Knows American History and Admirers Washington and Lincoln—Says—Florida Keys Opened Door to Cuban Liberty and Wants Islanders to Be Interested in Spain.

"I shall endeavor to have Cuba follow in the footsteps of the United States," said President Tomas Palma the other day in a long conference with Governor Jennings of Florida and Colonel W. J. Bryan, says the Havana correspondent of the New York World. "I am familiar with American history and a great admirer of Washington and Lincoln. One made the Union; the other preserved it. Both dignified it by gaining the respect of other nations."

"I feel grateful to the people of the United States, to whose sentiments regarding Cuba the house and senate promptly responded. President McKinley's delay and deliberation were due to his great individual responsibility. Congress had a collective responsibility."

"I have come to Cuba reluctantly, preferring my home at Central Valley, N. Y., and a quiet life with my family rather than public life. But I have come because I felt it to be my duty."

"I want Cubans and Spaniards to turn their backs on the past and unitedly face the future, jointly combating difficulties and problems."

"I want opposition for the betterment of the government, but not personal or prejudicial opposition. I should be ready and willing to heed criticism. I think liberty of the press a great national benefactor in pointing out the errors and improving the morals of the government."

President Palma spoke kindly of the clemency of the United States courts and judges that tried the filibusters and particularly thanked the commonwealth of Florida for great help, saying:

"The history of Cuba's success was written on the Florida sands, and the Florida keys opened the door to Cuban liberty. Key West is a ward of Havana, being nearer to Cuba in point of time than it is to the mainland of Florida."

"Sanitation and education will continue as they have been improved by the military government. Last year all South America was exceptionally free from yellow fever. There may be an increase this year, but the Cuban government will employ the utmost vigilance to maintain health and uninterrupted commercial relations. I believe in the theory of the transmission of the fever by mosquitoes, but I agree with Governor Jennings in the necessity of keeping this city clean."

HOW TO EMPLOY INDIANS.

Novel Suggestion Made by Ella H. Cooper.

The problem of finding occupations for our American Indians that would be at once congenial and lucrative has never been successfully solved, says Ella H. Cooper in "How to Educate the Indians" in Ganton's Magazine for May. They have been placed at tasks for which they have no natural aptitude and forced into competition with the skilled labor of alien races, while the arts in which they excelled were neglected. In basketry, the most ancient of arts, their work cannot be surpassed, yet we are told that it is fast taking its place among the lost and forgotten handicrafts. Had this industry been favored by protective legislation it would have furnished remunerative employment for the Indian men and women when not otherwise occupied. A tariff that would have checked the influx of Japanese work competing in the same line would have reserved this home market for our own aborigines.

The street games, the quills and feathers, the arch bark and beads, all the materials which the Indian has appropriated and used with peculiar and fascinating effect, should be left in his skillful hands and encouragement and guidance in the marketing of his wares should not be lacking. The handicrafts that were the Indians' can trade hats as well. The sweet crosses that bend in the dainty fan would be no less effective in rustic cutting hats. Bend porcelains could be strung by Indians as well as by Assyrians, and our homes could be beautified by the labors and genius of these we have supplanted in this land.

Always Out of Politics.

Charles A. Tamm says he is out of politics and therefore not a Democratic aspirant for the presidency, but in the last fifty years the Democrats have not nominated a man for the presidency who was in politics.—Brooklyn Standard-Union.

Why They Hate It.

No wonder the Democrats denounce the Dingley tariff. It has put a surplus in the treasury, and Democrats always denounced a Republican surplus. The poor devils never enjoyed one of their own creation.—Moravian Falls (N. C.) Yellow Jacket.

SON OF DR. TALMAGE.

Like His Father, He Is an Eloquent Pulpit Orator.

Dr. Frank De Witt Talmage, the only surviving son of the famous tuberculosis pastor, is now in his thirty-fourth year. He was born in Philadelphia in November, 1887, and received his early education at the Polytechnic institute in New York.

For a time he was a student at the Sing Sing Military academy. In 1898 he entered the New York university and graduated from there in the spring of 1900, being named as the orator of his class, an honor which his father received in the same university in 1833. On leaving college Frank De Witt Talmage at once decided to study for the ministry and entered the Union Theological seminary. He has had the benefit of experience on the lecture platform, being associated in a course in which the distinguished African explorer, Mr. Henry M. Stanley, and his late father were included. He has spoken in many of the leading cities throughout the country with marked success. At Nazareth, Pa., he addressed the farmers on the race track before the grand stand and held the attention of an audience of thousands, making one of the finest oratorical efforts ever heard in that region. Among the many cities in which he has lectured are New York, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Newark and Baltimore. He has held pastoral charges in Philadelphia and Pittsburg and is at present pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian church, Chicago.

Dr. Frank De Witt Talmage possesses many of the characteristics that distinguished his late father. In strong and eloquent address, in vivid and picturesque language and in voice and manner the resemblance is very striking.

Having been his father's companion on many tours abroad as well as at home, he has made the personal acquaintance of a very large number of the leading public men of both Europe and America.

LARGEST OF DRYDOCKS.

Shipbuilding Combine Will Erect It on Staten Island Shore.

New York is to have the largest drydock in the world. Plans have been prepared and property is now being acquired, says the New York Herald. More than this those responsible would not say the other day. It is known, however, that the dock is to be built on the eastern shore of Staten Island, not far from quarantine. This is only one of the enterprises contemplated by the organizers of the shipbuilding combination. Concerning the drydock, Lewis Nixon said:

"It is true that a great drydock, probably the greatest in the world, will be constructed here. New York city and the steamship lines that run to this port will have cause to be thankful for the formation of the shipbuilding combination, for the reason that in the near future it can no longer be said that in this, the world's greatest harbor, the largest ship afloat cannot be docked or repaired."

The firms in the new combination are the Union Iron works of San Francisco, the Bath Iron works (limited) and the Hyde Windlass company of Bath, Me.; the Crescent shipyard and the Samuel L. Moore & Sons company of Elizabethport, N. J.; the Eastern Shipbuilding company of New London, Conn.; the Harlan & Holl Gsworth company of Wilmington, Del., and the Canada Manufacturing company of Carteret, N. J.

Continuing his talk concerning the combination, Mr. Nixon said: "From the nature of shipbuilding conditions in this country this combination is not for the purpose of putting up prices or in any way restricting production. By economical and efficient management it will be able to reduce the cost of production, and the larger the value of the work in hand the more fully will the advantages of the co-operative combination be realized."

"When the combination is actually formed, it will start with contracts aggregating $37,000,000, which will be cleared from the books within three years. No other industry can so directly benefit the United States generally as one successfully carried out on the lines we propose."

"More directly will New York be benefited than any other city. That is because its greatness depends to a wonderful extent upon its foreign trade. It is a fact that we have long been ashamed to confess that while we have here the best harbor in the world, which is visited by the largest ships afloat, we have not the means of docking or repairing those ships. That condition will be remedied, and as I have told you, a drydock will be built in this harbor which will be large enough to doat the greatest of all great ships."

MADE DOLLS FOR A DUKE.

Philadelphia Girl Has an Order From Germany.

Miss Virginia McDowell of Philadelphia is making paper dolls for the two granddaughters of the present Grand Duke of Luxembourg, says the Philadelphia Times. Thirty of the dolls, each one differently dressed, were recently sent to Castle Koenigstein, near Wiesbaden, where the children, about eight and ten years old, make their home.

A friend of Miss McDowell, an artist, is a close friend of the children's mother, and a year ago last Christmas the artist presented them with several dolls which had been made and dressed by the Philadelphia girl.

So delighted were they that their mother, fearing the evil effects of too much indulgence in such innocent pleasure, allowed the children to play with them only occasionally. The fragments of pasteboard and tissue paper soon wore out, and then a letter all gorgeous with heraldic blazonry was sent to Miss McDowell asking her to make thirty of the dolls and send them as soon as possible to Castle Koenigstein.

Miss McDowell set to work immediately, and in a short while the dainty pieces of handiwork were completed. Each doll was dressed differently in costumes for various times of day—street gowns, dinner dress, ball gowns, hunting jackets and others for similar occasions. In several of the dresses the national colors of the duchy, yellow and blue, were judiciously and artistically combined.

Miss McDowell is well known in Philadelphia's younger set. She makes her home during the winter with her aunt, Miss Jones. She will spend this summer at Wildwood. She is a clever artist and has made a specialty of paper dolls.

HIS DAUGHTER THE PRIZE.

Kansas Farmer's Wheat Saved by a Rare Scheme.

Farmer James Woolsey has succeeded in having his 500 acre wheatfield cut before the yellow grain grew musty, says a dispatch from Wichita, Kan., to the Chicago Record-Herald. But it cost him his daughter. He gave her as a prize to the young harvester doing the greatest amount of work in a specified time. Willis Rodway, a young mechanic from Illinois, won, and he and Anna Woolsey were married at Pratt a few days ago.

The Woolsey farm is one of the largest in Pratt county, and the scarcity of harvest workers in that section weighed heavily upon the farmer's mind. His wheat grew dead ripe, and there was no one to help him cut it. Then he devised a plan to offer as a prize to the harvest worker his fifteen-year-old daughter. She was as dutiful as good looking. The men came by the score. She was given the privilege of rejecting any of the contestants she personally disliked, and many were thus ruled out.

The contest was spirited. It lasted three days, during which time Rodway, working ten hours a day, cut a hundred acres and wore out three good teams.
